1168 FAVOR REFUNDING BONDS, 90 IN OPPOSITION

City Given Means to Refinance Outstanding 1915 Act Improvement Debt

Despite a light vote, citizens of Redwood City recorded a heavy majority for the $350,000 bond issue voted on Tuesday to refinance defaulted 1915 act improvement bonds. The vote was 1168 in favor of the measure and 90 against it.

The 13-1 majority was believed to be a record vote on Redwood City propositions, and was held to indicate solidarity of support given by the people to its city council, which had decided unanimously on this method of relieving a crucial financial situation.

TO BE SOLD AT ONCE

The new bonds, voted under an act approved by the state supreme court so they will stand no risk of being invalidated like the issue approved in September, 1935, will be approved at once by bond attorneys and then offered for sale.

When money is then secured from the bonds, negotiations can be started to buy up the outstanding bonds, expected to be sold to bear interest at only 3½ per cent. Already some $85,000 in the old bonds have been lined up for purchase.

With the bonds thus held by the city, and property on which defaults have occurred foreclosed upon, under steps already taken, the parcels of property can be resold, thus being put back on the tax rolls to bear their share of the city's tax load. At the same time they will return funds to the city to aid in paying off the new bonds.

The vote by precincts:

Polling Precincts	Yes	No
No. 1 Justice Court	138	19
No. 2 498 Stanbaugh	146	19

No. 5 237 Jackson	180	9

SAN MATEO BUYS PARK

SAN MATEO, Dec. 8.—Purchase of 19 acres of property in Beresford as a city park was approved by the San Mateo city council on receipt of a report from City Manager Earl P. Wilsey last night. The city will pay $18,477 for the property.

McGRATH KIN, TRANSIENT DIE OF HURTS

Death Toll Reaches 65 As Injuries Fatal To Kelley, Hardy

Bringing San Mateo county its 64th and 65th traffic victims for the year and raising the week-end total of fatalities to four, James Kelley, 65, brother-in-law of Congressman John J. McGrath, and Thomas Hardy, 47, itinerant, died Monday night from injuries received in pedestrian-auto accidents.

Kelley died at 10:15 o'clock at South San Francisco Hospital, failing to rally from head and internal injuries he received when struck late Sunday in South San Francisco by the machine of Leonard Patchen, 34, Bayshore City, employee of a San Francisco ice firm.

Hardy, who, according to the district attorney's office, staggered drunkenly in front of the machine driven by Kurt Heyman, Palo Alto real estate broker, passed away at Mills Memorial Hospital at 1:30 a.m. from the effects of injuries similar to Kelley's.

Chances are remote, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis Dematteis, for any charges of negligent homicide to be brought as a result of these two accidents or the ones in which Guy Dunlop, 45-year-old San Francisco barber, and Alex Steinmetz, 27, San Mateo automobile mechanic, lost their lives. Patchen was cited by South San Francisco police on a technical charge of reckless driving, but Dematteis said that the accident appeared just "one of those things." Patchen having been driving at a moderate speed and not having been drinking, Heyman was absolved of blame by highway patrolmen who said that Hardy was intoxicated.

Drive for Funds For Preventorium Appears Lagging

Going into its third week, the drive for Preventorium funds, while meeting with early response throughout the county, has begun to lag, it was revealed today by Mrs. Harry S. Dana, president of the organization.

Mrs. Dana appealed to last minute subscribers to mail in their subscriptions immediately.

"If you have helped to save but one life through your subscription to the San Mateo Preventorium you have served a great humanitarian purpose," Mrs. Dana declared.

The subscription cards were mailed to local residents Thanksgiving Day. Some subscribers have held off their donations until the last moment, it was revealed.

"We are anxious to know the result of our campaign for funds," said Mrs. Dana. "Because the funds we seek for the Preventorium this year are vitally necessary."

The Preventorium drive this year is not connected in any way with the sale of Christmas Seals.

Five-Week Resident Of R. C. Passes Here

Having moved here from San Francisco only five weeks ago, Miss Anna Edith McCroskey died late Saturday at 235 Hopkins street. She is survived by a sister, Orell McCroskey, and a brother, C. B. McCroskey, both of San Francisco.

be held tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock at the Halsted Mortuary, 1123 Sutter street, San Francisco.

Need of 'Youth Act' Is Told Conference in Menlo Park

Facing a graphic chart that depicted various income groups and their financial, social and inherited place in American life, an interested audience of 50 or more peninsula men and women gathered at Menlo Junior College auditorium Monday night to hear youth's plea for aid and guidance into the economic set-up.

Speaking on behalf of youth were Dr. Dewey Anderson, former assemblyman, and Prof. H. C. Brown, of the Stanford University philosophy department. Speaking as young men and women were Mrs. Claudia Williams, of the Promotional Committee for a Northern California Assembly of Youth, and Richard Criley, a San Jose member of the same organization.

Introduced by Professor Brown, Anderson explained the economic background of the situation young people find today when they search for jobs, or attempt to work their way through college.

THREE COMMON HAZARDS

"What can be done for youth?" Anderson asked. "The young man or woman trying to enter business now must face three common hazards: Wrong distribution of workers, leading to scarcity wages in many industries; technological unemployment; and the task of working into a vocation where others already are employed."

Blaming what he termed "scarcity economics" as responsible for the situation, Anderson declared that "a Youth Act is inevitable and necessary. It must provide for training and replacement, and even subsidies for young people while they are learning new jobs."

Mrs. Williams explained the purposes of the Northern California Assembly of Youth, which has drawn up a tentative draft for a bill known as the California Youth Act to be introduced into the legislature next month, providing "vocational training and employment for youth between the ages of 16 and 25."

"The bill we have drawn is tentative," Mrs. Williams explained. "We are merely trying to make people think. We welcome suggestions for improvements and changes."

Professor Brown, who acted as chairman, spoke briefly, agreeing

LIGHT RAIN FAILS TO AID COAST CROPS

Drought Harm Worse Than First Feared, Farm Aid Says

Rain, so light it amounted to little more than a heavy fog, which fell in the county Monday night, did not help coastside farmers whose crops are in "even worse condition than I had feared," according to Agricultural Commissioner Max Leonard.

Returning from a survey of the coast crops, Leonard said today that not only had the sprout crop been sorely hit by the prolonged drought, but the artichoke crop is suffering also.

While in ordinary years the artichoke production is steadily increasing in December toward a peak in January, this year the lack of rain has caused the crop to fall off this month over November's production, according to Leonard.

Other agricultural authorities said that the artichoke farmers to be about one-third the usual crop and of poor quality.

In addition to the sprout, bean and white broccoli crops which Leonard reported earlier as being damaged by the drought, the Colma potato crop is also suffering, he said. Planting is being so delayed that harvest of the potatoes will be much later next year than usual, throwing marketing schedules out of adjustment.

Meanwhile slowly rising temperatures were forecast for the middleweek as a bitter cold wave moved eastward toward the Atlantic, but while gales, cold, tornadoes and wind storms were reported in other parts of the United States, California basked under a sky of summer blue with little promise of rain.

MANAGERSHIP WILL BE HELD BY DIMMITT

Council Nearly Names Engineer But Waits On Legislature

That Charles L. Dimmitt soon will drop the "acting" from his city manager title was seen Monday when city councilmen meeting in the firehouse auditorium, indicated that he would be named definitely shortly after January 1—as soon as the state legislature can ratify the city charter amendment approved last June 11 removing certain qualification restrictions from the position.

Near the end of the lengthy council session, Councilman Robert Jones, commending the veteran engineer for his handling of the managership for the past year since resignation of Ernest A. Rolison, moved to name him manager on the spot since he had served long enough now to qualify under the charter provisions requiring the manager to have a year's experience as such.

In one way or another, all six councilmen present—Councilman William Hohn being absent—expressed approval of the move, Councilman George McNulty even offering to second the motion.

But discussion evoked the opinion from City Atty. Albert Mansfield that it would be advisable to wait until after the legislature had ratified the charter amendment. Mansfield's opinion was acceded to and Jones withdrew his motion.

Long expected, appointment of Dimmitt as manager appeared thus to be definitely set early in January. He has been serving as both manager and engineer, working the past 18 months without vacation but securing permission from the council last night to leave the state for his 15-day vacation which he will start, with Mrs. Dimmitt, December 19. The couple plan a train trip to Mexico City.

City to Seek Grounds Title

Early action to acquire title to Union Cemetery so that it may be cleaned up was ordered today by the city council Monday after Mrs. Sallie Nelson had urged that the long-delayed project be speeded. Pointing out that the matter was broached first some seven months ago, with considerable activity occurring at the time, but with nothing apparently being done for the past six months, Mrs. Nelson asked the council to take steps looking toward improvement of appearance of the burial ground.

Members of the council expressed opinion that City Atty. Albert Mansfield had been authorized to seek title to the property from the governor of the state, in whom the title rests. But Mansfield explained he had not understood it that way.

As a result, Councilman Robert Jones moved and Councilman James Eva seconded a proposal to have Mansfield attempt to secure a deed from the governor for the property and quiet title on it, so that the city then could appear municipal funds to improve appearance of the grounds, located on Woodside road just west of Five Points.

Closer Inter-County Co-operation Urged

Two recommendations of San Mateo county's representative, Publicity Director William McCarthy, were taken home by delegates to the Mission Trails convention held over the week-end at Santa Barbara in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the mission.

McCarthy urged closer co-operation between the eight central coastal counties, especially concerning advertising and highway study.

He also recommended to the convention that for participation in the 1939 World Fair in San Francisco, the eight coastal counties unite in a joint exhibit, which could suitably be placed in a Mission style building, McCarthy reported. He said the recommendations were well received.

SUPERVISORS PURCHASE OFFICE BUILDING SITE

$6500 of Courthouse 'Sinking' Fund Used To Acquire Marshall Street Property

Solving financial difficulties by taking the money out of the courthouse construction fund, the board of supervisors has filed a deed recording their purchase for $6500 of the Jefferson avenue and Marshall street property, approved site for a new county office building.

Closing of the deal with the heirs of the late George Henry Hansen, the supervisors, acting through Chairman Manuel Francis who signed the deed, cleared the way for the next step, securing a PWA grant to aid in construction of the sorely needed $100,000 structure.

At the same time the deal was regarded as a fatal blow to hopes of the East San Mateo Improvement Club for removal of the courthouse to San Mateo.

The lot purchased is a 100 by 50 foot piece of land that will be but a portion of the site on which the office building will be constructed. Facing on Middlefield road, the building as proposed will reach from the Jefferson avenue corner, which is the Hansen property, the entire length of the block, including the Middlefield road and Marshall street corner now occupied by the fire warden and agricultural commissioner's offices, as well as the local relief headquarters.

The proposed new structure, according to County Manager Walter Kellogg, will be built two stories high and will house the fire warden's office, the county library, agricultural commissioner, relief office, Redwood City justice court, county school superintendent and supervisors' quarters.

The Hansen heirs signing the deed were George E. Hansen, May Hansen, James G. Hansen and Sophia M. Dolan. The deed, before the purchase, was in escrow at the San Mateo County Title Company.

Only possible hitch in the plans now would be if a Public Works Administration grant could not be secured. Should government funds be granted, work might begin in a few months on razing the buildings now occupying the site and proceeding to actual construction of the new structure.

Persons in the community knowing of families to whom the toys may bring an otherwise denied happiness at the Yuletide are invited to leave their suggestions at The Tribune office.

New Station Planned Here

That another new service station soon will replace an old one here was revealed to the city council Monday by J. C. Wagner, district sales manager for the Standard Oil Company, through L. T. Nygaard, local agent.

Appearing before the council simultaneously with receipt of a letter from Wagner, Nygaard sought and was granted permission to replace the present steel structure on El Camino Real at Claremont with a station of modernistic design, of steel construction.

Widening of El Camino Real, scheduled to start by January 1, necessitated moving of the station, but rather than remove it, the agent told the council.

Approval of the move, with use of "as much as possible of the present concrete approaches," as requested in Wagner's letter, was given, on motion of Councilman James Eva, second of Councilman George McNulty.

Belmont Civic Body Backs Yule Lighting

BELMONT, Dec. 8.—The annual meeting of the Belburn Village Home Owners Association, Belmont, was held over the week-end at the home of Clifford Lussier, with the association going on record for 100 per cent cooperation with the Outdoor Christmas Tree Association of California in decorating the exterior of the homes in the village for Christmas.

The following new officers were elected: Clifford Lussier, president; Howard Williams, vice president; Herman Kohlmoos, secretary-treasurer.

200 TREES TO BEAUTIFY MENLO PARK

Extension of Street Also Decided Upon By Councilmen

MENLO PARK, Dec. 9.—Purchase of more than 200 trees for planting in the "old town" area north-east of the railway tracks and Oak Grove avenue was approved by the city council this week.

A contract was authorized to be drawn by City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr., with Tom Stentford, local nurseryman, by which the latter will furnish the trees, plant and maintain them for three years at a cost of $2.50 apiece.

The tree planting, first step in a major plan of beautification for Menlo Park, will get under way within a month.

Unofficial approval was expressed by the council of a plan whereby six landowners will deed a 40-foot right-of-way for an extension of Florence lane, now a dead-end street, through to Fremont street. In exchange for the property, the city will construct a roadbed 30 feet wide.

MENLO PARK

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Morey last week, making a group of two boys.

On November 25 there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Derry of Laurel avenue, a seven-pound baby girl. The new arrival makes a family of three girls and a boy.

Thomas Furman, ex-chief of police of Menlo Park, has returned to his home here after spending a year at San Mateo.

This community, experiencing a building boom, over 40 dwellings are in course of construction. Stanford Park appears to be getting the largest share of the buildings.

The Bank of America will occupy its quarters in the Derry building about the first of the year, when the new structure will be finished.

The annual retreat of the Sisters of Corpus Christi Monastery ended last Saturday. A Dominican priest from San Rafael conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldman Jr. and their two sons, Carl and Rudolph, have returned to Menlo Park after a five months' trip to New York and Germany. They drove East in July to visit Mrs. Feldman's brother, Emil Scheelke, in New York. In Hamburg, they were guests of her mother, Mrs. Dora Scheelke, and Mr. Feldman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldman.

Honeymooning in Santa Barbara are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Aragon, whose marriage was solemnized last Sunday afternoon. Mr. Aragon, a resident of Redwood City, claimed Miss Eva Filanders of Menlo Park as his bride at a quiet, informal ceremony having as its setting Immanuel Lutheran Church in San Jose.

The bride was attended by Miss Marcella Guiney as maid of honor, while James Guiney served Mr. Aragon as best man.

On their return from their wedding trip to Southern California, the newlyweds will make their home in Mountain View.

Fast Jockey Finds Car Speed Expensive

BURLINGAME, Dec. 8.—A jockey who specializes in "riding the fast ones" at Bay Meadows today paid a court penalty for continuing to "ride fast ones" on El Camino Real in Burlingame.

Alan Gray, 23, now residing at Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo, was fined $75 on a reckless driving charge after admitting to Judge R. L. Stone here he had been driving 80 miles an hour on the highway through the city.

Officers who arrested Gray Friday night told the court he was driving so fast that they had to pace him clear to Millbrae to stop him. Gray admitted the speed, but said he was talking to friends in the car and had not noticed the speedometer.

Toastmasters Plan Election

Plans for election of officers next week and for a "Ladies' Night" at installation January 4 were laid by Toastmasters at their meeting Monday, at which the customary five practice talks were given by members and Harvey Hall of the Sequoia high school faculty was named as critic succeeding Lawrence Mount of Stanford, forced to give up the post because of illness.

Nominated by the club for the four offices to be filled are Earl Whitaker, president; Fred O. Glover, vice president; Cuthbert Currie, secretary, and Millum Tackitt, sergeant-at-arms. Nominations will be open again before election next Monday.

On the committee for the installation meeting will be Pres. Donald Bogie, the new president, and one other member to be named by the chair.

For the speaking, Millum Tackitt was chairman. L. E. Wolbert discussed "My Uncle Zeph, the Greatest Sportsman," being a humorous account of a hunter, Duncan Reynard, in a treatise on tannic acid as treatment for burns recommended three emergency measures pending arrival of a doctor: Put a strong tea on the burns; give the victim plenty of water to drink, and wrap him up well, keeping him free from drafts. Homer Spellenberg in a facetious talk, highly enjoyed, discussed "Faces on Parade," recommending the study of human faces on streets as an enjoyable pastime. Dallas Conine considered "Whither America," a discussion of political doctrines, and Fred O. Glover spoke on "The Cross in Spain," a discussion of the future of religion in that country in view of the present civil war.

P-T. A. To Sponsor 'Sports Night' Program Tonight

More than 600 students of Sequoia Union High School will participate in the "Sports Night" program to be presented under auspices of Sequoia Parent-Teacher Association tonight in the high school gymnasium, beginning at 8 o'clock. All residents of communities from which high school students are drawn, and especially parents of those students, whether members or non-members of the association, are invited to attend the event.

Demonstrations by the girls and boys' physical education departments, under direction of Miss Mildred Brown and Frank Griffin, will feature the entertainment and will include bandminion, both girls and boys participating; Russian dance by girls' beginning classes; block "S" awards for both boys and girls; basketball fundamentals by intermediate girls; tumbling, individual and group events; achievement tests, finals of shield events; mass setting-up exercises, 100 boys of Sequoia; a tango by 120 girls of the intermediate classes, and a basketball game between the school's 110 and 120-pound boys' teams.

These demonstrations, to be held in the girls' gymnasium, will be preceded by a short program in the boys' gymnasium—salute to the flag led by Leroy Lawrence, commissioner of welfare; singing of "America," led by Leroy Lawrence; remarks by Mrs. Robert Garcia, P-T.A. president; school songs by the high school pep band, under direction of Max Gelber and Otis Carrington.

Tickets for the "Sports Night" may be secured, for 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for grammar school children (high school students are to be admitted free with student body cards if accompanied).

WOMAN DIES IN SAN MATEO
SAN MATEO, Dec. 8.—Death yesterday claimed Mrs. Annie Stanfield, 76, Oakland, mother of Mrs. H. A. Smith of San Mateo. Mrs. Stanfield had lived with her daughter here for two years, and died after a long illness.

Collection of Taxes At $1,162,000 Mark

County tax collections for the first installment, having soared over the $1,000,000 mark Saturday, last day for payment without a 5 per cent penalty, jumped forward further today as employees in Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney's office tabulated checks received through the mail.

Total tax collections for the first period to date have totaled $1,162,000, McSweeney said. He and his office force worked the entire week-end recording the last minute flood of payments. Included in a deposit of $139,737 which McSweeney made today was a check of $58,877, San Francisco's contribution for property it owns in San Mateo county.

SILENCE BRINGS PENALTY

Pete Pignoni, Colma, ranch hand, started serving a one-week term in the county jail today for contempt of court after refusing to give Judge Maxwell McNutt information the superior court jurist wanted in the failure-to-provide suit on which Mrs. Pignoni had him hauled into court.

The University of the South, Seville, Tenn., was established at a meeting of educators atop Look-out Mountain on July 4, 1875.

Ford's Dearborn Village to Get Wohlbruck Museum Collection

The rare collection of ancient horsedrawn vehicles and automobiles which for years was exhibited by the late Theodore Wohlbruck in the building at 2414 El Camino Real, Redwood City, has been sold to Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, it was revealed in San Jose Monday.

Representatives of the motor magnate are busy dismantling the mammoth collection, now stored in San Jose, for delivery to Dearborn where Ford has rebuilt an early American village.

While Ford's agents declined to discuss the sale price, observers estimated it was in the neighborhood of $25,000, the deal being closed by Wohlbruck shortly before his death November 26.

Crating of the relics, numbering 200 horsedrawn vehicles and nearly 50 obsolete automobiles, will not be complete before the new year. Armed guards are preventing interference from the curious.

The collection represents the results of a life-time hobby for the versatile Wohlbruck, who was known the length of the state as a photographer of school children groups.

Included are carriages used by the Stanfords, Hearsts, Hopkins, Rolphs, and other famous bay families besides the historic Del Monte bus, hacks, several tally-hos, stage coaches, hearses, saddies and trappings.

Wohlbruck expressed the wish that the collection, which reportedly cost him more than $150,000 in cash and endless hours of search, might be placed on permanent exhibit in the bay region.

The San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce had met with the collector several times during the past year seeking to make such an arrangement, but finances made permanent rental of suitable quarters impossible, it was said.

Wohlbruck's widow, Harriet, resides at the family home in San Jose, where the couple had lived for the past year.

Ninety-one per cent of the farms in Clark county, Ky., come under soil conservation program this year.

Mrs. Berry, Kin Of Local Men, Dies in South

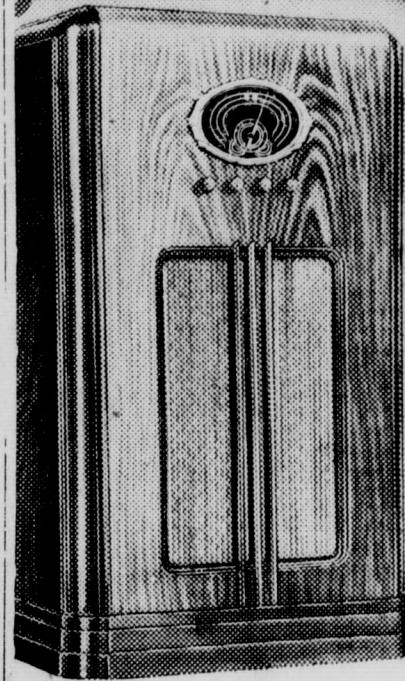

Mrs. Josephine Berry, widow of the late Frank Berry and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, pioneer residents of San Mateo county, and herself born 69 years ago at Kings Mountain, passed away over the week-end in Pasadena.

She was a sister of Walter King of Redwood City, the late Frank King, Elizabeth King and Mrs. Mary A. Granger. She is survived also by two daughters, Mrs. Claire Dalve and Mrs. Psyche Cosgrove, both of Honolulu. She also leaves five nephews, King Granger of this city, Peter Reichelt of Belmont, and Frank, William and Robert Cosgrove, all of Honolulu.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home, the services being conducted by the Rev. C. E. Ward, pastor of the First Congregational Church. Interment will follow in Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

Miss Pauline Huskinson of Bartlesville, Okla., injured a thumb while bowling. Physicians found it necessary to amputate it.

If The Tribune had been published back in the old days, a famous Greek legend would never have been written. Old Diogenes would have put up his lantern, spent his evenings playing pinochle and found his honest man in a jiffy with a two-line Want Ad.

For The Tribune Want Ads are like the famous Mounties. They invariably "get their man"—which means that they do what you want and expect them to do. Former Librarian Dies at Home Here

Miss Laura Eva Barton, pioneer resident of Redwood City and for 30 years librarian of the Redwood City Public Library until her retirement a few years ago, died shortly after noon Wednesday at her home at 61 Claremont street, Redwood City.

A native of Headsburg, Miss Barton was the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Thomas C. Barton. She is survived by a sister, Miss Gertrude A. Barton of Redwood City. She had lived here most of her life.

Funeral services, arrangements for which are as yet incomplete, will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Layng & Tinney Funeral Parlors.

Bugle, Drum Corps Reorganized Here

With Thomas Vernal as bugle instructor and Stanton Mullen as drum instructor, the American Legion post No. 105, Redwood City, has reorganized its drum and bugle corps, with 21 members, and is practicing regularly. The corps may be in the parade New Year's Day for the East-West football game.

IN RESERVE CORPS
SAN MATEO, Dec. 7.—George A. Karmann, 235 Grinnell street, San Mateo, has been appointed to the reserve corps by the U. S. War Department. Karmann is a first lieutenant in the engineers' corps.

Hetchy Supply In Local Water To Be Greater

2-1 Ratio Voted Here By Council If New Rate Adopted

First of the peninsula communities to take advantage of the tentative offer of the San Francisco Water Company for a cheap wholesale rate on Hetch Hetchy water used in excess of amounts taken in corresponding periods in the previous year will be Redwood City.

This was decided at Monday's city council meeting when it was voted, upon recommendation of Acting City Manager Charles L. Dimmitt, to increase amount of the San Francisco supply from the 50 per cent now mixed with local well water to 66 2/3 per cent.

Thus, instead of the Redwood City supply being one part Hetch Hetchy to two parts well water, it will be two parts Hetch Hetchy to one part local water.

CHANGE DUE JANUARY 1
The change will be effected shortly after January 1, providing the San Francisco supervisors do as expected and approve its Public Utilities Commission recommendation to lower the wholesale rate to Redwood City on "surplus" water to 10 cents a hundred cubic feet.

The better supply furnished to users at no increase in rates will cost the city some $6500 a year, it was estimated by Dimmitt. This is because the city can pump water for 2.7 cents a hundred cubic feet from its own municipally-owned wells.

But the new mixture will reduce hardness of the water from 160 to 115 "parts per million," Dimmitt said, and bring corresponding reductions in sodium chloride and alkalinity.

Beneficial results of the new mixture despite the fact that profit from the city-owned utility will decrease by the estimated $6500 induced Councilman Eva to move for the change, with Councilman Louis Christensen seconding the motion.

Should other communities on the peninsula increase their usage of the water sufficiently to provide an additional $64,000 worth of water used a year, San Francisco will cut its rates to 10 cents on all water used, instead of only on surplus over the previous year, the public utilities commission has indicated. The rate, the commission said it hoped, could be made effective by mid-summer.

A report that a dozen people had been made ill lately, apparently because of too much chlorine in the local water, brought a report from Manager Dimmitt that the defect had not been remedied. No other explanation was offered for the difficulty.

Division of District Approved By Lions

Approval of the proposal to divide the present large fourth district of the Lions club—a division that extends over California, Nevada and Hawaii—was given by the peninsula council of the service club at a meeting Tuesday night at the Los Altos Country Club.

With Wayne Millington of Redwood City presiding as council president, the peninsula agreed that supervision of the districts could be carried out better if the present district were divided into five smaller divisions.

Guest speaker was Prof. George Dowrie of Stanford, who, in a talk on "Hell Bent for Inflation," disparaged this often heard belief, asserting that he foresaw a balanced federal budget by 1939 since present district revenues are increasing while relief expenditures are decreasing. Next meeting of the council will be in Burlingame.

$100 AUTHORIZED TO EMPLOY UNDERCOVER MAN FOR PROBE

Upon hearing a report that bookmaking was allegedly flourishing in at least one Redwood City poolroom, but that known officers were unable to catch the offenders at the illegal activity, the city council voted Monday on motion of Councilman James Eva, second of Evans Fletcher, to appropriate $100 to employ an undercover man to ferret out the asserted gamblers.

The complaint of the purported activity was lodged by J. C. Chastain, local publisher.

Police Chief C. L. Collins, present at the firehouse meeting, was asked his opinion of the charge—if he believed bookmaking was going on.

"No, sir, I don't," he replied to Mayor Paul A. McCarthy's question. "There are no wires in the place mentioned, and they can't carry on bookmaking successfully without the wires."

However, acting on the theory that a secret investigator might be able to discover activity, the council appropriated the money from the unbudgeted reserve, after Chief Collins said he believed that an investigator could be secured for $10 a day.

Chastain also brought up the question of theater games again, asking that he be furnished with a written opinion from the city attorney as to legality of "10-win," "screeno," "merchants' sweepstakes," bank nights and other forms of activities pursued. The council authorized fulfillment of Chastain's request.

Councilman Fletcher making the motion, with Eva seconding. The opinion is to be presented at the next meeting of the council, it was decided.

Sequoia Club Plans Radio Examinations

Sequoia high school's Radio-Physics Club, which met last week at the high school, is working on code and radio laws and theory, preparing some of the members to take the examination for the amateur radio operator's license during the Christmas holidays.

Charles S. Brown, high school physics instructor and club advisor, points out that the examination has been made much more difficult in recent months, 15 words per minute receiving in code now being required instead of 10, and mechanical requirements having been made more strict. At present there is only one high school student who possesses the amateur license, Harold Kiem.

Several former members of the club, through the interest aroused in their club activities, have gone on in the radio field after graduation, according to Mr. Brown. The club has received acknowledgments of reception of messages sent from their high school set from as far afield as New Zealand, Australia and Punta Arenas, southern point of South America.

Mr. Brown reports that they are able to receive messages from Europe, but have not been successful in bringing both the American continent and the Atlantic ocean in sending messages to Europe.

ARCH STREET SITE SOUGHT FOR GROCERY

Rezoning Is Planned; Nursery Regulation Planned By City

Preliminary steps toward rezoning the site on the southeast corner of Arch and Brewster streets where Sawday Stores plan to establish another unit in their chain, and approval of a proposed ordinance clarifying the city's regulations on location of private schools were business handled by the Redwood City planning commission at its Tuesday night's meeting.

The proposed site for the new store is to be changed from second class residential to business zone, according to Chairman Henry Witte. A public hearing on this rezoning move will be held December 21 in the Fire House auditorium.

The commission recommended to the city council adoption of the revised ordinance which was presented by City Attorney Albert Mansfield, barring nursery and other private schools from the first residential district and requiring them to secure permits to locate in the second residential district.

The ordinance now in effect does not differentiate between public and private schools, according to Witte.

The present location of the Sawday Stores at California and Broadway has been secured by the Bank of America, which plans to establish a branch there, its second in Redwood City.

The planners at their meeting also discussed, but took no action on, the suggestion fireproof building regulations be modified for structures on El Camino Real.

Accord Gained On Area to Be In Port District

Purchase of Acreage
Authorized; Bids
Are Called

(Additional Council News, Page 12)
Four steps toward earliest possible construction of Redwood City's harbor project were taken by the city council when it met in a lengthy session Monday that saw a multitude of business transacted.

With unanimous votes being recorded on all questions presented, the council:

1. Authorized City Atty. Albert Mansfield to proceed to effect annexation to the city of lands, in a smaller area than at first planned, adjacent to Redwood Creek and West Point Slough "as expeditiously as possible."

2. Adopted a scale of wages ranging from $5 per 8-hour day for common laborers to $12 a day for bricklayers and tractor drivers, in conformance with prevailing wage scales, to be paid workmen on the project.

3. Decided to purchase, at $1500 an acre, the 12½ acres of land at the port on which the council has had an option.

4. Authorized Acting City Manager C. L. Dimmitt to seek bids on the construction of wharf and transit shed facilities at the port for opening at 3 p.m. January 4 and awarding the same evening when the council meets.

BOND SALE DELAYED
In addition, the council, of necessity, decided to wait until the necessary 30-day period has elapsed for the appellate court's decision to become effective before attempting to sell $200,000 of the bonds voted last June 11 and upheld as to validity by the court last Thursday.

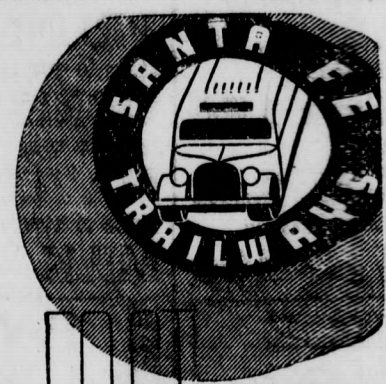

In voting, on motion of Councilman George McNulty, second of Evans Fletcher, to proceed to annex the port area under a procedure yet to be finally decided upon after further study by City Attorney Mansfield, the council decided not to attempt to include several sections of undeveloped lands not susceptible of development for some time to come. These areas were designated on a map prepared by Manager-Engineer Dimmitt as Sections 3, 10, 15, 16, the portion of 22 not already in the city and a strip between Section 17 and the Pulgas line. It was on motion of James D. Eva, second of McNulty, that these lands were excluded.

In general, the area to be annexed runs adjacent to Redwood Creek, extending approximately a mile on each side, and embracing West Point Slough. Property of the Pacific Portland Cement Company plant is included.

Colma Cafes Give Up Five

Two San Mateo county law officers went on a legal "gambling" spree Monday night, with the result that the county's coffers will in all probability be enriched by $400.

Contributors will be the proprietors of four Colma resorts in which District Attorney's Investigator James O'Hanlon and Deputy Sheriff Matt Farrell found slot and black jack machines.

The officers began their "gambling" at the "Two by Four" Club, owned by Frank Morgioni. Farrell winning 15 cents on one slot machine before the officers confiscated two of the coin devices. Morgioni will likely be assessed the $100 fine which has been imposed on all others found guilty recently of possessing slot machines in the county.

TAKE TURNS WINNING

The same penalty faces Mr. Pucini, operator of the tavern bearing his name. A one-cent coin machine paid 10 cents to Farrell, who had all the luck in the early part of the evening. This machine, too, was confiscated.

O'Hanlon's turn to "cash in" came at the resort operated by Americo Ballentini on San Pedro avenue. O'Hanlon beat the house twice in a blackjack game, winning 35 cents before the pair, having secured conclusive evidence by receiving the cash payments and even convincing Ballentini that he

Gelber Attends S. J. Conference on Music

Max Gelber, Sequoia high school band and orchestra director, was in San Jose over the week-end to attend a meeting of the Bay Section of the California Western School Music conference at which emphasis was on the coming spring conference of the group to be held at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco in March. At that conference will be assembled an all-Western orchestral band and chorus, Mr. Gelber directing organization of the band from among the schools of the states in the conference.

should sign a receipt for the money, seized the machine.

10 CENTS YIELDS $100
O'Hanlon was again the winner on another blackjack device at Mario Pendola's, San Pedro avenue. Adding 10 cents to his "winnings," the portly, gray-haired, twinkling-eyed investigator added Pendola's name to the list of nearly certain contributors of $100 fines.

Over the week-end, O'Hanlon, working alone, seized the second machine within 10 days at the South San Francisco Auto Camp of Dominic Tanga. Tanga did not recognize O'Hanlon, known to his deputy associates as "Front Page Jim" because his name is so much in the news, so the deputy gave the South San Francisco's memory a jog by again confiscating one of Tanga's coin devices.

Vinton county is one of the poorest in Ohio. It has no large cities and much of the land is hilly.

Bourbons Map Victory Dinner

Preparations are being made today by the Democratic County Central Committee of San Mateo county for the victory dinner to be held under the auspices of that body at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel at San Mateo Saturday in celebration of the victories of Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Congressman John J. McGrath.

Chairman Thomas J. Broderick said that a telegram has been sent to United States Senator W. G. McAdoo, inviting him to the dinner, and advices from Los Angeles state that the senator from California will no doubt be present and speak.

Other guests, in addition to Congressman McGrath, will be Congressman Richard J. Welch and Frank H. Havenner of San Francisco. Mrs. Lucretia Del Valle Grady, national committeewoman, Postmaster Ralph Evans of Palo Alto and other prominent Democratic leaders from various parts of the state.

Working with Chairman Broderick are Miss Elinor Louise Falvey, general secretary of the County Central Committee, and the following committees: Reception, J. V. Caffey (chairman), A. V. Swift, Mrs. George Reardon, Mrs. J. G. Graham; dinner arrangements, Mrs. J. V. Gaffey (chairman), Mrs. Robert McWilliams; publicity, Allen J. Ward (chairman), Mrs. O. E. Nickolls; entertainment, J. Gene Barrett (chairman), Frank Garibaldi; tickets, Jerome Macdonald (chairman), Charles F. Falvey, Charles A. Cavalli.

Store Proprietor Foils Holdup Pair

Faced by two men who told him to hand over his money, "for else" Dominico Nicoli, storekeeper at 2301 El Camino Real, Tuesday night refused to comply with the demand.

Instead he reached under his store counter for a weapon, but found that before he could produce a gun both men had fled. According to police, Nicoli reported that neither of the self-proclaimed hold-up men had threatened him with weapons, but had merely demanded he give them money. When they saw that Nicoli might be armed, the robbers stayed around no longer.

House Fire Perils Homes and Nursery

EAST PALO ALTO, Dec. 7.—Fire originating in the rear of a house at 608 Walnut street, East Palo Alto, threatened several homes in the area and leaped to the adjacent lath flower nursery of A. Groves before being extinguished by firemen of the Menlo Park district late Saturday.

Approximately $1000 loss was sustained by Roger R. McClain, owner of the residence, which was occupied by G. D. Van Tine. The water tank, tankhouse and rear of the house was damaged, but the nursery was but slightly harmed.
